

Strong Collaborations

Make Successful Grant Awards

FREE

Wednesday, August 22, 2012

8:30 am—11:30 am

Sacramento Regional County Sanitation District Office
10060 Goethe Road, Sacramento, CA 95827

This three hour workshop is geared for organizations interested in developing collaborative grant proposals. Funding from federal, state and foundation donors now depend on strong collaborations. Grantwriters who want to get improve their funding success and make sure they know the latest on funding research and grant funding trends will greatly benefit from this workshop. Participants will also receive one-on-one advice on their specific projects.

This comprehensive course will focus on the traits of a successful grant proposal, understanding the review process, organizing and writing the scope of work or research plan, the strategies for paralleling proposals to the funder's guidelines and development of each section of the grant for innovative excellence.

This course will cover what it means to collaborate with other organizations and how to protect your organization when developing a collaborating agreement. It is designed for those undertaking agency specific projects and will include writing the various components of the proposal, from the abstract to the project design.

Workshop instructed by Kristen Cooper Carter, Grant Management Associates, who has more than 25 years experience as a grant developer, technical writer and project manager.

SACRAMENTO-SAN JOAQUIN
DELTA CONSERVANCY

Questions? Call Susan: 916-375-2088

Registration

Name _____ Title _____

Organization _____

Email _____ Phone: _____

Email Susan Roberts your registration at Susan.Roberts@deltaconservancy.ca.gov